CHRONICLE.

MADAGASCAR.

THE friends of the Society will rejoice to learn from the following communications of the Rev. WILLIAM ELLIS that he reached MADAGASCAR on the 22nd of May last. It is probable that he started for the capital before the end of that month. The distance of ANTANANARIVO from TAMATAVE is something less than 230 miles; but such are the difficulties of travelling, that the journey usually occupies ten or twelve days, and it is not therefore likely that we shall be able to receive tidings of his arrival during the present month. We cannot, however, entertain a doubt that his reception, both by the King and by the people, will be most cordial, and that his presence in the capital will be of the greatest advantage, both to the social and religious interests of the community. One of the most important facts connected with the maintenance of peace and religious freedom, as well as the stability of the present Government, is the death of RAMBOASALAMA, as there was much reason, from the ambitious spirit of that heathen prince, to fear that plots and conspiracies would be formed against the life of the King. Our friend refers to many evils connected with the unrestricted system of commerce sanctioned by the present King; but there is ground to hope that, when these evils are fully known at the capital, measures will be adopted for their correction.

Mr. ELLIS was naturally very solicitous that our Missionary Brethren who sailed for Madagascar in April last, might reach the capital by the day of the King's coronation, August 23rd; but, unless the vessel in which they sail is favoured with a passage unusually quick, that hope cannot be entertained.

Mr. ELLIS, writing from the Mauritius just before his embarkation for Madagascar, says:—

"I am encouraged by the latest accounts from Madagascar in everything excepting the progress of the Catholics at Tamatave; and, although their course of proceeding is different from ours, in giving the people money, &c., I admire their zeal, in staying through the whole fever season, and persevering under great discouragement. I sometimes think one of our Missionaries had better labour at Tamatave, but I shall know more when I arrive and see for myself.

RESULTS OF FREE TRADE IN MADAGASCAR.

"There is a great increase in the trade of Madagascar, and adventurers of all descriptions flock thither in great numbers, and the ordeals through which the people will have to pass are approaching rapidly. As a proof of this, I may mention that, in addition to all the arrack or ardent spirits, and a sort of stupefying beer made in the country, more than 60,000 gallons of rum are reported in the papers last week as having been shipped for Madagascar. The ill-advised measure of the King in taking off all duties, with a view of encouraging free trade, favours this inundation of evil, as the traders here are filling the country with their goods, lest duties should be again levied, and their profits lessened. This makes me anxious that the recommendation of the governor here to the home Government, that a good, upright, and intelligent man should be sent out, should be complied with. It also makes me anxious for his speedy arrival. If a good man comes he may save the country; one of an opposite character will only hasten its ruin, or rather the ruin of the natives. However, I may find things better than I expect in reference to the secular prospects of the people.

PREPARATIONS FOR THE RECEPTION OF THE MISSIONARIES.

"I have made arrangements which I hope will prove satisfactory, for the arrival and accommodation of the Missionaries when they reach Mauritius, and for their voyage and journey to the capital. David Johns will wait for them at Tamatave, and then accompany them on their way, as he will be able to spare them all anxiety about bearers and accommodation, &c.

"You will be glad to learn that, during the last week or more, when the natives have thronged around me, I have been able to understand their conversation when talking among themselves, and to speak to them with considerable ease in their native language.

"Much interest is felt in our Mission. I believe I have been the means of preventing some mischief, and assisting in promoting much that will be for the spiritual good of the people."

Mr. Ellis arrived at Madagascar towards the end of May, and on the 24th of that month wrote from Tamatave as follows:—

ARRIVAL AND ENTERTAINMENT OF MR. ELLIS AT TAMATAVE.

"I find an amazing change in Tamatave itself; a great increase of foreigners, some very bad characters, many of my old friends dead, &c. But all whom I have come in contact with show me great respect. As soon as our ship was at anchor, officers came on board to say that the king's house was prepared for me, also that I should attend a meeting of the Christians to tender God thanks for my safe arrival. About five o'clock I stepped on the beach, where a large crowd of natives were waiting. An officer of the palace, whom his Majesty had sent to meet me with a native chief, then advanced, and, after shaking hands, for I had known him before, made a speech, informing me that he had been sent by the King to conduct me to the capital. To this I replied in the native language, and was then saluted by the people with the wish that I might have favour. The chief then presented a letter from the King as his credentials. This letter informed me of his appointment, and of the King's desire to see me. The secretary added his own pleasure at the prospect of my arrival in the capital, and informed me that Rambosalama, the king's rival, had died on the 21st of April, six days after the date of his previous letter. While I was reading the letters, the other officer commenced a speech in favour of Radama, to which one of the Hovah officers, who had returned with me from Mauritius, replied. The multitude having in the meantime closed around us, with R——, the chief, wearing the pink sash of an officer of the palace, walking on one side, and the officer in blue uniform on the other, followed by many of the foreigners and people, I was led through the principal street to the King's house, where there were crowds of people, &c.; a great number of people had been cleaning the rooms and hanging up mats, &c. As soon as I entered, I was formally presented with the house; but on looking over it I perceived there were no beds. Therefore I accepted the provision intended by his Majesty, but deferred taking possession until the next day. More than one offered me accommodation, but I went with the husband of David John's daughter to a very nice house in a neat garden, where I had a cordial welcome, a good supper, a nice cup of tea, and a comfortable bed. The next morning two officers came to say that, as they thought I should be more comfortable at the house of the Chief Judge, apartments were provided for me there. This is the best house in the place, and I was conducted to it by a number of officers. I was then installed in a nice large, clean, new pavilion, with a trustworthy servant. Presents of eggs, fowls, ducks, and geese came in abundance, and in the evening a fine fat ox, from the Commandant at Tamatave. At seven we sat down to dinner at the Chief Judge's table, where soup, fish, beautiful mullet, curry, and roast meat, furnished the repast.

ACCIDENT TO THE COMMANDANT OF TAMATAVE, AND TREATMENT OF THE PATIENT.

"Just as we were finishing, an officer entered the room in haste to say that the Commandant was frightfully burned by an explosion of gunpowder in his house, and was on his way to have his wounds dressed by me. In a minute or two afterwards his palanquin was brought into my pavilion and put down on the floor, where the chief lay trembling with pain, his face expressive of the greatest agony. A large tin cylinder filled with powder, and left by his predecessor, had exploded and produced the mischief that extended over his face, arms, and legs. His wife and attendants crowded around while I examined his wounds, which I hoped would not prove dangerous. Requesting that all excepting his wife and two or three attendants would withdraw, I began to wash and dress the wounds, one of the attendants pulling cotton wool out of our mattresses to wrap round his limbs. When I had finished he expressed great satisfaction. He was then carried back to his own house, all the party loading me with thanks, and saying they did not know what they should have done if it had happened a week ago.

THANKSGIVING SERVICE WITH THE CHRISTIANS.

"The next day I was busily engaged in getting all my packages on shore, and, though greatly fatigued, had to pay more than one visit to my patient, whose feverish symptoms alarmed his friends. As I walked to my house from the last of these, late in the evening, the fireflies were flitting about amongst the dark foliage almost edging the leaves of the mangoe and other trees.

"Our meeting for thanksgiving on account of my arrival took place in the King's house yesterday afternoon. A goodly number were present. Their prayers were appropriate, earnest, and simple, their singing earnest and apparently sincere, the reading of the Scriptures very impressive, and the comments plain and pointed. It was Matt. v., as illustrative of blessing following suffering. I then stood up and addressed a few words to them in Malagasy. The leader of the meeting then requested that I would pray. I declined, on the ground of insufficient knowledge of the language. He then said, "Pray in English; the people will like to hear it, and some will understand." I did so, interspersing Malagasy sentences, and closing with the Lord's Prayer in that language. Many seemed deeply moved, and numbers walked home with me. You cannot imagine the sensation my arrival has occasioned, and the satisfaction I derive from all I see and all I hear about the Christians.

"The governor has returned from the country to-night, having been sent for on my arrival.

"Sunday, 25th.—I have attended and spoken in Malagasy at one service. I am to preach in English to the foreigners, and shall then attend native service again at three."

CHINA.

TIEN-TSIN.

We have received the following very interesting and encouraging letter from the Rev. Joseph Edkins. The natives of this populous city manifest an interest in the Gospel the most gratifying, and although our friend only commenced the Mission in the month of May, 1861, God has already rewarded his labours in the conversion of several of the people. A Christian Church has been formed, and some of the converts appear likely, after a suitable course of training, to become Native Pastors and Preachers among their countrymen. Mr. Edkins had made a visit to Peking, the capital, and we cherish the hope that before the close of the year he may have freedom to preach the Gospel to its inhabitants.

"Tien-tsin, April 7th, 1862.

"My dear Dr. Tidman,—You will be pleased to hear that our prospects here continue to be fair, and that we have signs of the continued blessing of God.

BAPTISM OF TWO CONVERTS.

"Yesterday, the first Sabbath in April, I had the pleasure of receiving two candidates for Church-fellowship into the Christian Church by baptism. Ten in all have now been admitted during the period that has elapsed from the commencement of last autumn, and four or five more are waiting for further instruction and inquiry in the hope of being then received.

"The older of the two received yesterday, has been a schoolmaster, but is now elderly and is supported at home by his sons. He has been an assiduous attendant at Christian worship for four or five months, and has attained a good knowledge of Christianity. The younger man, only eighteen years of age, is the son of a convert baptized at the commencement of the year. The father was employed by me in translation and the editing of tracts for six months before resolving to ask for baptism. The son, with the quick feelings natural to youth, after a month's acquaintance with the Gospel, asked his parent if he might not embrace it and be baptized. His father told him in reply, that he himself had thoughts of requesting to be admitted to the public profession of Christianity, and that it would be more becoming for him to wait. Accordingly, in deference to his father's prudence, he postponed his application, and has since that time acquired an extensive acquaintance with the truth.

OPENING OF A ROOM FOR PREACHING.

"The second point to which I shall refer is the opening of a Preaching Room in an excellent situation. In choosing a chapel site in China, the first object is to have it in a thronged thoroughfare, so that a large number may be readily brought to hear the blessed invitations of the Gospel. After some months of ineffectual searching, a shop at the East Gate was offered. I have now had it open a fortnight and find that its location is admirable. It is usually filled in a quarter of an hour after the doors are opened. There are seats for 120, and there is standing-room for eighty more. The rent is moderate. Having this place to preach in every afternoon, and having also one or two natives who can assist in maintaining the services, I feel that a step has been taken in advance, and trust that the Word of God will grow and be glorified in the spread of the knowledge of Jesus, and the conversion of those hitherto involved in heathen superstition. A few books on the table, and some written scrolls on the walls, containing the Commandments, the Lord's Prayer, a formula of the Trinity, and a summary of Christian doctrine, explain the object to which the room is devoted. It still remains to find a site to purchase for building a chapel. Pending this, the present room, which cannot at present be bought, will be of great use.

"Last night, a Prayer Meeting for the Church-members was commenced, in a room which serves as a vestry. Every Sunday evening prayers will ascend here, for a blessing on the services held in the chapel. Thus we wish to express our trust in God. Five of the converts took part either by prayers or by short addresses.

THE TRAINING OF NATIVE PREACHERS.

"I proceed to a matter of great importance. The training of Preachers has always been encouraged by the Directors in their Missions, and it is an essential element in our work, which no intelligent supporter of Missionary operations can fail to approve. We are here placed in a province registered by the Chinese as having a population of 38,000,000, which is nearly the same as that of France, and with an area of 59,000 square miles. To say nothing of Shantung, Shansi, Mongolia, and Manchuria, each of which extensive regions can be reached from this place by our slow conveyances after a week's travelling, the province itself, with its noble capital, calls for the most devoted and persevering attention. To meet this call of Providence, it is necessary to train Native Pastors and Preachers. I have made a commencement with two of the converts, and have my eye on a third. In addition to the hospital in Peking, we must also have a college there as soon as it can be set on foot. We can aim at no lower point than this. These young men, whom I have already encouraged on account of their zeal, and their apparent possession of suitable natural gifts, to give themselves to the work of preaching, will be a nucleus of an Institution, which should as soon as possible be established in Peking. The Catholic Missionaries have one or two training Institutions in each province. Now, they have begun afresh in Peking. I saw their students and boy pupils lately, in their classes in the imperial city. They were studying Latin and Manchu, in addition to Theology, and the ordinary Chinese education.

VISIT TO PEKING.

"This brings me to the subject of Peking itself, as our ultimate chief centre of operations. In a late visit of a fortnight spent delightfully with Dr. Lockhart, I had the opportunity of remarking the extent of his labours among the sick. The hospital, as you know, is crowded with applicants to the number of several hundreds daily. In addition to Chinese and Manchus, he has had not a few Coreans and Mongolians among his patients. Now, perhaps he has Tibetians also, for their embassy had just arrived before I left the capital. All the Tartar nations meet in Peking, and perhaps our Mongolian Mission, carried on formerly by our honoured brethren Swan and Stallybrass, may yet have a continuation, after the interval that has elapsed. If so, then the work of the Nestorian Missionaries, conducted many centuries ago, will also be resumed, for their theology was much more Scriptural than that of Rome. Excluded from Tartary by the St. Petersburg route, we regain access to it through Peking.

"That city, according to present appearances, will soon be thrown freely open to our work. In its streets, traversed by a busy and lively population, with a metropolitan quickness and a good-natured disposition, the voice of the preacher of Christ's Gospel must be heard. Appearances are now peaceful. A political reaction highly favourable to the extension of foreign ideas has taken place. The Government looks to foreign Powers as its friends. There is now a newly developed tendency to think well of us, or at least to keep on terms of close amity with us. This will for the time work in our favour, and if the Tartar troops sent down to the South, succeed in preventing an irruption of the Shantung banditti into this province, we shall have, for some time, a state of prosperity among the people which will be very favourable to our objects.

"Throughout the past winter and autumn, our Methodist New Connexion Brethren, or myself, have been actively engaged in travelling to the other cities of this province and the adjoining territory of Shansi. Tai yuen fu, the capital of that province, is a city of vast size, and has a population much larger than that of Tien-tsin. But, for the present, we feel assured that Peking and Tien-tsin, are by far the most suitable localities for our permanent Missionary efforts in the north of China.

ARRIVAL OF MR. AND MRS. LEES.

"April 14th. Before concluding this brief record of the actual state of the Mission, I rejoice to be able to announce that the Rev. Jonathan Lees, with Mrs. Lees, arrived here safely on Friday morning last, April 11th, by the 'Vulcan,' a British troop ship. To-day our dear young Brother commences his Chinese studies. I cannot but seize this opportunity of expressing my thanks to the Directors for this seasonable reinforcement, and for the intimation which I see in the Magazine, of their intention to send out, at an early date, two more Missionaries, for Peking and Tien-tsin.

"We have now arrived at last at that spot in Heathendom, where many of the most celebrated Jesuit Missionaries made themselves world-famous during a long period. It was here that they may be said to have concentrated their strength. Let us adopt their motto, in a truer sense and a closer consistency, than they proved themselves able to employ it, and labour ad majorem Dei gloriam.

"I remain,

"Yours very truly,

(Signed) "JOSEPH EDKINS."

INDIA.

BERHAMPORE.

WE have great pleasure in presenting the following extracts from the journal of a young Missionary, relating the facts connected with his first Missionary tour in India. It will be seen that while the people generally are ready to give an attentive hearing to the Gospel message, yet that the visits of Missionaries are so rare, that it can scarcely be expected that any permanent or extensive impression has yet been made in favour of Christianity. The country traversed by our young friend, and the multitudes of the untaught people that came under his observation, remind us how great is the harvest and how few the labourers, and should stimulate both the efforts and the prayers of Christians at home on behalf of the benighted and perishing myriads of Bengal, and the other provinces of India no less extensive and populous.

"Wednesday, January 22nd. We left the tent yesterday morning and came in to Berhampore. Thus has ended my first Missionary tour, and I can now state what are the impressions produced by what I have seen and heard in the course of the journey.

WILLINGNESS OF THE PEOPLE TO HEAR THE GOSPEL.

"First, I have been much struck with the willingness of the people to hear the Gospel, and this seems generally to have borne some proportion to their poverty and want. This was most manifest while we were south and south-east of Berhampore. There the people were poor, their losses by the late heavy rains have been very great, and their suffering has been increased by the exactions of the landlords, who, to make up their own losses, have wrung the last pice out of their poor tenants. We found the people smarting under their losses and wrongs, and not a few of them were ready to ascribe their sufferings to their sins. 'We have forsaken God,' said one man, 'and therefore we are unhappy.' In many cases there was a spirit of inquiry that was very gratifying, and many of the questions we were asked were such as seemed to indicate that the questioners had thought much about the religion of Christ. Of course there was a large amount of thoughtless ignorance displayed. We were asked, 'What shall we get by becoming Christians?' Some had heard, or pretended to have heard, that by becoming Christians they would be exempted from taxes; and many asked, 'Why is it that when people embrace Christianity they do not become white like the Sahibs?' We were told to work miracles if we wanted to make converts, and now and then the Native depravity of the human heart disclosed itself in objections to Christianity, on account of its morality. Notwithstanding all this, the attention paid to the addresses, the desire to obtain books, the spirit of thoughtful inquiry, and the almost uniform civility, were in a very high degree encouraging. There were less of these pleasing features as we went northward and approached Jeagunge, and Moorshedabad. Here there was more generally a spirit of careless indifference; but even here were not wanting a few, who listened gladly to what was said.

OBSTACLES PRESENTED BY CASTE.

"Then, again, I have been struck with the strong obstacle which caste presents to the reception of the Gospel. Numbers of people tell us that they see the superiority of Christianity, and would gladly embrace it, but they fear the result of losing caste. It is, indeed, a fearful ordeal, one that requires the highest degree of moral courage to face, and that is a quality to which the Bengalee is almost an entire stranger. All this must be seen to be felt. I do not think that any one not in the country can understand what caste is. I by no means think that I know all about it, but I do know more than I did, having seen something of what before I had only heard and read. I well remember one poor man with whom we met. His careworn face seemed to light up with pleasure as he heard of the God of the Bible, and the provision which in the Gospel he has made for man. The man approved it all. I thought he was beginning to feel that here was something of which he had long been in search. But a look of unutterable wretchedness returned to his face, as with a deep-drawn sigh he replied, 'Oh, what can we do? there is the fear of the Brahmins.' Nor was this a solitary instance. From men of all grades we have heard the same confession, and often has the heaving of a sigh testified to the insufficiency of Hindooism to meet the spiritual wants of men. Nor is it amongst the poor and uneducated alone that we find this dread of losing caste. We certainly shall look in vain to the upper classes for examples of a more enlightened policy. Of this, the case of Mohiputram Rupram, as it is told in the 'Friend of India,' is a confirmation:—'Mohiputram Rupram, the Deputy Educational Inspector of Bombay, who recently visited England, though a Brahmin, after long holding out against the persecution of his fellows, has at length humiliated himself to apply for readmission to caste. Amid other disgraceful acts of penance, he swallowed a disgusting pill, composed of the fine products of the cow. Worse still, the leading men of the caste, thinking that a man of so little decision of character and self-respect would be no great credit to them, resolved that, as the Shasters enjoin repentance as well as atonement in such a case, and as the professing penitent still continued to pride himself on his travels, he could not be restored.'

"On reading this last sentence, one can hardly refrain from saying, 'Serve him right;' and yet the case affords evidence almost appalling, of the strong hold which caste has upon the native mind. Seeing how this man, than whom we might expect to find few more enlightened or more liberal, bends to popular prejudice, can we wonder than the poor and uneducated villager should be afraid to act otherwise?

FOREBODING OF A COMING CHANGE.

"Another thing which struck me was the notion which the people entertain of a coming change. 'We shall all be Christians soon,' was an expression heard in many places, and there seems to be an expectation, perhaps a hope, of an entire revolution in the religion of the country. It may be that this is only idle talk, perhaps the remains of some tradition which has long been floating about, and it may be wholly ineffectual to induce a reception of Christianity: but such is the feeling; and we have heard many say, 'What is the use of embracing Christianity now, when it will certainly bring so much trouble? Let us wait; by and by all will be Christians, and then it will be easier.' At one place a Brahmin, after stoutly contending for some time against Christianity, said sullenly, 'The worship of our gods is at an end; everybody will now embrace this new religion.'

DISTRICT OF MOORSHEDABAD. THE VAST POPULATION OF THAT AND NEIGHBOURING DISTRICTS DESTITUTE OF THE MEANS OF RELIGIOUS INSTRUCTION.

"If the conversion of the world is to be accomplished by human instrumentality, it is worth while to ask, what proportion does the effort bear to the work to be accomplished? and a few statistics will be interesting. The district of Moorshedabad, to which my part of the journey was confined, contains a population of 1,100,000. We were out daily, morning and evening, visiting all the villages within four or five miles of the tent. Some of the villages had but one visit, and others had as many as eight or ten; this was of course regulated by the population. In this way addresses were delivered in about seventy different places, to an aggregate of nearly 5000 people. It remains to be seen what addition will be made to these figures by Mr. Bradbury, on his part of the tour; he will scarcely do more than double them, if he does so much; and what is it all? It must be remembered that it is only by such tours as these that the majority of the population can be reached. Many of the places we went to had not had a Missionary near them for two, three, or more years, and some people said they had never heard anything about Christianity. It is not likely that the same places will be visited the ensuing winter, and it is very likely that there are villages to which the Missionary has never been, as the route taken depends upon the existence of roads. So that, even in the most favoured parts of the districts, there are thousands of people who have no opportunity of hearing the Gospel more than once in two or three years. Even supposing it were possible for us to preach the Gospel regularly in the whole of this district, there would still remain much to be done. The adjoining districts are many of them unoccupied by Missionaries. Beerbhoon has its Mission Station, and so have Burdwan, and Nuddea; but there is the Sonthal Country, with a population of over 30,000, and no Missionary; there is Maldah, with its 311,000, and no Missionary; and Rajshahye, with 800,000, and no Missionary. Beyond Rajshahye lie the two districts of Bograh and Pubnah, with a united population of 112,000, and no Missionary. Amongst all these, how many must die without once hearing the glad tidings of peace! and when we remember how many there are in England who hear the Gospel for years without being affected by it, is it a wonder that poor Hindoos, who hear it only once or twice in a lifetime, are slow to embrace it? And can we reasonably expect large results until the preachers of the Gospel are multiplied a hundredfold? Truly 'the harvest is plenteous, but the labourers are few. Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he may send forth labourers into his harvest.' (Signed) "G. SHREWSBURY."

CHICACOLE.

DEATH OF A YOUNG TELOOGOO CONVERT.

Our Native Missionary Brother labouring at this Station, having drawn up a narrative of the affecting incidents attending the death of the promising young Convert, one of the fruits of his ministry, whose baptism was recorded in our number for October last, we are induced to give it a place in our periodical, in the hope and belief that it will prove interesting and instructive to the more juvenile portion of our readers, from the evidence it affords that the Saviour whom they love and adore, is alike precious to the young Hindoo Convert, especially in that solemn season when the lamp of life flickers in the socket, and the near view of eternity opens before him.

"Chicacole, November 4th, 1861.

"My dear Sir,—I have to inform you with deep sorrow that Pillala Venkataswamy, who was baptized in the month of March last, expired on the morning of the 23rd of September. It appears that he had always been delicate in health from his infancy, his principal complaint being difficulty in breathing. He was pretty well for a few months after he was baptized; but, about the middle of June, his cough becoming troublesome, he was placed under medical treatment, which gave him no relief. He had puffiness and numbness in his legs, and was occasionally attacked with fever; so that he gradually became weaker, till he was utterly unable to walk or stand. At my request, Dr. Kean, the Zillah surgeon, kindly attended on him, and gave him cod-liver oil and a mixture, and a few days after he took them he was attacked with diarrhœa, which brought him very low for about a week. After his recovery from it he took the medicines again, and although they did not cure him of his disease, they relieved him so much that he was able to attend school during the whole month of August, and nearly half of the month of September; then he had a relapse, which made him extremely weak. On consulting the doctor again, he gave him Dr. de Jongh's cod-liver oil, and some other medicine, but they were of no use. On the 18th September, he complained of pain in the chest, and had a mustard poultice applied. The next day he was advised to go to Vizagapatam for a change of air. On the 20th, the doctor examined his chest and told me that his heart was affected, and that if he should recover he would never be quite well. The next day I was told that his case was hopeless and that it would not be advisable to send him anywhere. The poor lad suffered much from Friday evening till Monday morning the 23rd; his sufferings, from the too frequent beating of the heart, being most acute on Sunday night. On Monday morning he did not appear to suffer so much, but he became much weaker, and at last fell asleep in Jesus at about twenty-five minutes past 8 A.M., having been unconscious for about five minutes.

VIEWS AND FEELINGS IN THE PROSPECT OF DEATH.

"His death is certainly a loss to the Mission, and especially to the school, but it is gain to him. It was evident that he thought much of death and eternity. During his last illness he asked me, 'Sir, what is it to die in the Lord?' and was satisfied with the explanation I gave him of it. It appears, that before he was taken seriously ill, he told our Mission school peon, a heathen, that, as he believed in the Lord Jesus, he was not afraid of dying, as he had been when he was a heathen. As the same peon was standing near his bed on Saturday the 21st, I asked Venkataswamy if he was sorry that he believed in the Lord Jesus Christ; and although he was certainly weak he summoned his strength and said, 'I am glad. Had I died among my relatives I should have been sorry.' As for his bodily sufferings he said that the Lord Jesus suffered much in the garden of Gethsemane, and that not for His sins but for our sins, whereas he was suffering for his own sins. On another occasion he remarked that 'God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes.' The same night I read to him at his own home a portion of the 4th chapter and the whole of the 5th chapter of 2 Corinthians, and prayed with him. The next morning Josiah the catechist came to see him, and spoke to him for awhile, and offered a short prayer with him. After it was over, Venkataswamy told me that he was much tired, in consequence of his having made an effort to fix his mind at the time of prayer. In reference to affliction, he began with the words, 'Our light affliction—' and being unable to quote the whole verse, he told me that he was referring to the verse we were reading the other day. Sunday night he requested me to offer a short prayer with him, which I gladly did. The next morning, when I said to him that he was very ill, and that I did not know what the will of the Lord was regarding him, he said in Telugu, 'Let the will of the Lord be done.'

RELIGIOUS CHARACTER, AND CONSISTENT DEPORTMENT.

"His faith was simple and strong, and the Lord be blessed that He never suffered it to shake, even at the approach of the last enemy. He prepared him to die. The portions of the Word of God read at home at the family altar, the sermons he heard at the house of God, and the books he read, were all calculated to encourage and strengthen him.

"He loved God and his Redeemer. He loved those who loved the Lord Jesus. He relished spiritual conversation. When I held sweet communion with him I sometimes felt as if I was conversing with an experienced Christian. He was a prayerful lad. When he was occasionally asked to offer prayer in my family, he performed the holy exercise with propriety and earnestnesss.

"He ardently desired that the world might be filled with the knowledge of the true and living God, and of His Son Jesus Christ. In his last letter to dear Mr. Hay, of which a copy is left in his papers, he said, 'May God grant that I might be able to preach the gospel of our blessed Saviour to my fellow men of this country.'

"He availed himself of every opportunity of speaking for the Lord. Besides recommending the Saviour to the boys whom he taught in school, he recommended Him also to others. He loved his father, and spoke to him kindly of the truth. A few days before he was seriously ill he wrote to his uncle, requesting him to think of the claims of Christianity. In the reply he received he was mocked at. On the 15th September, after his return from the chapel, I advised him to have his legs rubbed with liniment by a native Christian, who is rather ignorant. As he was busy, he questioned him on what he heard in the chapel, and finding that he did not properly understand it, he explained it to him. On the last Sabbath night when he suffered most, he asked the chapel maty, who is a native Christian, what I preached from in the chapel.

"I always found him to be truthful, honest, straightforward, and diligent, and faithful in the discharge of his duties. He was very fond of studying his lessons and of making progress. Being naturally quick, he made very good progress in all his studies, in the course of the few months he was under my roof. He was greatly desirous of studying the Scriptures, both in English and Telugu. He carefully studied the first twenty chapters of the Acts of the Apostles in Telugu. When he heard that I was advised to send him for a change of air to Vizagapatam, he was rather sorry, and said that if it was necessary he would go, and that he would like to finish the Acts of the Apostles before he left. Once I lent him Hodge's Commentary on the Epistle to the Romans, with which he was quite delighted, and spoke to me as if he had discovered a rich mine of gold. He was very attentive to the Word preached in the chapel, and asked me to explain to him what he did not sometimes understand. On the morning of the 15th September, he was present for the last time in the earthly tabernacles of the Lord; but he was not able to sit comfortably on the bench on which he used to sit, so that he was obliged to sit elsewhere. My text was Romans v. 8.

"He loved the boys of the school, and was loved by them, and especially by those whom he taught. He made himself very useful in school.

"He had his faults, and mourned over them when they were pointed out, and tried to rectify them. Now I believe that the Lord Jesus, who enabled him to love and serve Him on earth, has washed him in His blood and has taken him to be with Him. 'Blessed are the dead that die in the Lord.'

"May God abundantly sanctify and bless the affliction to me, and those that are connected with me in the Mission.

"In conclusion, I beg you will kindly remember me and my work in your prayers.

"With our best compliments to you, and the Directors of our Society,

"I remain, my dear Sir, yours most obediently,

"Rev. Dr. Tidman." (Signed) "P. Jagannadham.

FRENCH PROTESTANT MISSIONS TO THE BASUTOS.

No. II.

We inserted in our last number an interesting biography of Entuta, a Native Basuto Convert, from whose conversion and subsequent character our French Protestant Brethren derived much encouragement in their arduous labours. We now insert the notice of a second Convert yet more striking than the former. Libe lived a heathen and a malignant enemy to the Gospel down to old age; but when the Missionaries had almost ceased to indulge hope concerning him, his heart was subdued and his mind enlightened by the gracious power of the Divine Spirit, and, as it will be seen from the following narrative, he became a decided follower of the Lord Jesus, and died in the peace and triumph of the Gospel.

THE AGED HEATHEN'S BITTER OPPOSITION TO THE GOSPEL.

"I pass on to the second fact, which made a great impression on me during my ministry. Libe, an uncle of Moshesh, had witnessed with the greatest displeasure the arrival of the Missionaries. 'Why are these strangers not driven away?' said he one day to his friend Khoabane, a prudent influential man. 'Why should they be driven away?' said he. 'They do us no harm; let us listen to what they have to say—no one obliges us to believe them.' 'That is what Moshesh and you are always repeating: you will find out your mistake when it is too late.' Libe was nearly eighty years of age when he spoke in this manner.

"Was this aged heathen clear-sighted enough to discern the power of the doctrines that we preached, or rather, did not his conscience tremble already under the sting of Divine truth?

"However this might be, some time after, taking advantage of the peace which reigned in the plain, Libe quitted the arid heights of Thaba-Bosio for the smiling valleys of Korokoro, and chose a hill of considerable elevation as the site of his village, whence the eye wandered over the imposing chain of the Malutos, and the rich table land which separates the Station where I resided from that of Moriah. It was not, however, the beauty of the sight which guided him in his choice; the sole desire of the old chief was to procure good pastures for his flocks, and to escape from our wearisome preaching.

"He soon saw with vexation that we had found our way to his dwelling. How could we abandon him—a man on the brink of the tomb? Already the deep wrinkles which furrowed his whole body, the terrible state of emaciation to which he was reduced, his dull and haggard eyes, and other indications still more repulsive, of a speedy dissolution, made even his nearest relations avoid him. He was generally to be found covered with disgusting rags, squatted near the door of his hut, endeavouring to lessen the tedium of solitude by plaiting rushes.

"One would have thought that Libe, forsaken by every one, would have received with joy the consoling promises of the only religion which can dispel the terrors of death. But no; at the first sound of our voices a smile of hatred and scorn played upon his lips. 'Depart!' cried he; 'I know you not. I will have nothing to do with you or your God. I will not believe in Him until I see Him with my own eyes.' 'Would your God be able to transform an old man into a young one?' said he one day to my colleague of Moriah. Just at this moment, the rising sun shot his rays across the defiles of the Malutis. 'Yes,' answered this servant of Christ; 'you see this sun, which will soon be six thousand years old; it is as young and beautiful to-day, as it was when it shone upon the world for the first time. My God has the power to perform what you ask; but He will not perform it in your favour, because you have sinned, and every sinner must die.' At the sound of this last word Libe became furious, and, turning, his back on our friend, replied: 'Young man, importune me no more; and if you wish me to listen to you, go and fetch your father from beyond the sea—he, perhaps, may be able to instruct me.'

"The violence of his animosity was especially manifested on the occasion of the interment of one of his daughters, at which I was invited to officiate by the husband of the deceased, and some other members of the family. The procession had preceded me, and I was following slowly towards the grave, praying to the Lord to enable me to glorify Him, when I saw Libe rushing towards me with a rapidity which only rage could give him. His menacing gestures plainly showed his design in coming, and I trembled at the prospect of being obliged to defend myself. Happily, his sons no sooner saw him appear than they ran to my aid; they begged him respectfully to retire, but he was deaf to their entreaties, and a struggle was the inevitable consequence. The wretched old man, exhausting himself by vain efforts, reduced his children to the grievous necessity of laying him on the ground, and keeping him in that position during the whole service. When I passed near him, on going away he exerted all his strength to disengage himself, and ended by knocking his head violently against the ground. At length he ceased, being quite worn out with fatigue; and, casting on me a look of which I could not have believed any man capable, he loaded me with invectives.

HIS REMARKABLE CONVERSION.

"After this deplorable incident, we discontinued our visits to Libe, for fear of contributing to increase his condemnation; we inquired, however, from time to time, if he was still living, and sent him friendly messages by his neighbours. What was my surprise one day, on receiving an invitation to go to him! The messenger that he sent was radiant with joy.' Libe, prays,' said he, with emotion; and begs you to go and pray with him. Perceiving on my lips a smile of incredulity, the pious Tsiu continued his relation as follows:—' Yesterday morning Libe sent for me into his hut, and said, "My child, can you pray? Kneel down by me, and pray God to have mercy on the greatest of sinners. I am afraid, my child, this God that I have so long denied has made me feel His power in my soul. I know now that He exists. I have not any doubt of it. Who will deliver me from that fire which never can be quenched? I see it! I see it! Do you think God will pardon me? I refused to go and hear His word while I was still able to walk. Now that I am blind, and almost deaf, how can I serve Jehovah?" 'Here,' added Tsiu, 'Libe stopped a moment, and then asked, "Have you your book with you?" I answered that I had. "Well, open it, and place my finger on the name of God." I did as he wished. "It is there, then, cried he, "the beautiful name of God. Now place my finger on that of Jesus, the Saviour." ' Such was the touching recital of this bearer of good tidings sent me by Libe, and I soon had the pleasure of assuring myself of the reality of this wonderful conversion. For nearly a year my co-worker at Moriah shared with me the happy task of ministering to this old man, whom grace had rendered as docile as a little child. In order to lose none of our instructions, Libe usually took our hands in his, and, putting his ear close to our lips, repeated, one after the other, the words that we uttered, begging us to correct him if he made any mistake. He was baptized in his own village. This ceremony attracted a crowd of people, who were desirous of seeing him who had persecuted us, and who now preached the faith which once he sought to destroy. Four aged members of the Church at Moriah carried the neophyte, who was too feeble to move alone, and deposited him on a kind of couch in the midst of the assembly. Although we were not without anxiety as to the effects that such varied emotions might have upon him, we thought it our duty, trusting in the Lord, to invite him to give an account of his faith.

"'I believe,' said he, without hesitation, 'in Jehovah, the true God, who created me, and who has preserved me to the present hour. He has had pity on me, who hated Him, and has delivered Jesus to death to save me. Oh, my Master! Oh, my Father! have mercy on me! I have no more strength—my days are ended.

Take me to thyself: let death have nothing of me but these poor bones! Preserve me from hell and the devil! Oh, my Father, hear Jesus, who is praying to Thee for me! Oh, my Lord! . . . . . Oh, my Father! . . . . . The good old man forgot himself so completely in these pious ejaculations, that my colleague of Moriah, who officiated, was obliged to interrupt him, by putting the following questions:—'Do you still place any confidence in the sacrifices that you have been accustomed to make to the spirits of your ancestors?' 'How can such sacrifices purify?' I believe in them no more: the blood of Jesus is my only hope.' 'Have you any desire you would like to express to your family, and to the Basutos assembled round you?' 'Yes; I desire them to make haste to believe and repent. Let them all go to the house of God, and listen meekly to what is taught there. Moshesh, my son, where art thou?' (Here Moshesh covered his eyes with a handkerchief, to hide his emotion.) 'And thou, Letsie, my grandson, where art thou? Attend to my last words. Why do you resist God? Your wives are an objection. These women are your sisters, not your wives. Jehovah created but one man and one woman, and united them to be one flesh. Oh! submit yourselves to Jesus. He will save you. Leave off war, and love your fellow creatures.' 'Why do you desire baptism?'—'Because Jesus has said, that he who believes and is baptized shall be saved. Can I know better than what my Master tells me?' It is the custom in our Stations for the converts, before receiving baptism, to repeat the ancient form of renouncement. It had been explained to Libe, and he had perfectly understood it; but it was impossible for him to learn it, or even to repeat it after the officiating minister. This circumstance was turned to our edification, inasmuch as the embarrassment of the convert brought forth all the ardour of his feelings. 'I renounce the world and its pomp,' said my colleague. 'No,' exclaimed Libe; 'I do not renounce it now, for I did so long ago.' 'I renounce the devil and all his works.' 'The devil!' interrupted the happy believer; 'what have I to do with him? He has deceived me for many long years. Does he wish to lead me to ruin with himself? I leave hell to him; let him possess it alone.' 'I renounce the flesh and its lusts.' Another exclamation. 'Are there no joys but those of this world? Have we not in Jesus pleasures which satisfy us?' According to a desire very generally expressed, Libe was surnamed Adam, the father of the Basutos. He died one Sunday morning, shortly after his baptism. One of his grandsons had just been reading to him some verses from the Gospels. 'Do you know,' said the young man, 'that to-day is the Lord's day?' 'I know it,' he replied; 'I am with my God.' A few moments after, he asked that a mantle might be spread over him, as he felt overpowered with sleep; and he slept to wake in this world no more."
